Enghouse Interactive's Communications Centre Administration

Course teaches students how to understand the functionality and capabilities of their contact centre solution. This course is a critical starting point in building an effective contact centre and improving your customer experience.

This course is a remotely-delivered version of the 2-day condensed classroom course, designed for those who are unable to travel for classroom training. This course does NOT cover Reports, Callback or Multimedia queuing. We recommend that this course is taken in conjunction with the online Reports workshop.
